REASONS FOR CLASSIFICATION OF COMPLAINT AS AN INQUIRY

- very high profile incident;
- need for the public's perception that an independent investigation be carried out;
- the gravity of the allegations;
(see attached articles)
- the civil ramifications that have and will flow from the investigation and subsequent hearings;
- to re-establish the integrity of the Cornwall Police Service, as it relates to the Police Disciplinary Process;
- the entire incident has been investigated internally, prior to the lodging of the most recent complaint and prior to the imposition of any corrective process.
