

Town Playgrounds Open For Summer Tomorrow

STRATFORD—Town-sponsored playgrounds will open tomorrow for the summer, conducting sessions from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday.

Children five through 15 years of age may register at the playgrounds, it was noted by James W. Penders, recreation supervisor.

Instructors in the playgrounds include Laura Andrews, Patricia Babjak, Tnni Diorio, Dolores Hanichak, Marion Hohnken, Karen Hovan, Eileen Lenné, Carol Lindroos, Dorothy Meerbach, Sheila Molloy, Joan Moran.

Also, Patricia Primavera, Alice Pudims, Loyse Tisdale, Barbara Troland, Dewey Amos, Richard Anthony, Raymond Barry, James Cox, James Graham, John Guckert and Dunham Haley.

Also, Robert Haverl, John Hefferon, George Kachmar, Kenneth Kunsch, Ernest Lazaro, Steve Martinek, John Miszuk, James Penders, Bruno Primavera, Louis Terzo, Fred Tucci and Paul Youd.

Robert Eisenberg and Manning Harvey will assist with the handicraft, inter-playground leagues and the swimming program, Mr. Penders stated.

He disclosed that the Recreation department will sponsor swimming classes for beginners of seven years of age and over, intermediate, advanced, junior and senior life saving groups at Short Beach starting July 6.

Children registering at the playgrounds will be transported to Short Beach for one lesson a week, Mr. Penders said. Children who register at the beach, starting tomorrow, and provide their own transportation, will be given two lessons a week.

Instructors Lisa Benson, John Andrews, Charles Gumkowski, Sally Cawthra and Lifeguards Walter Czokaj, Dennis Hoffman and Edward Collings will receive the registrations.
