

Mr. [REDACTED]
Australia

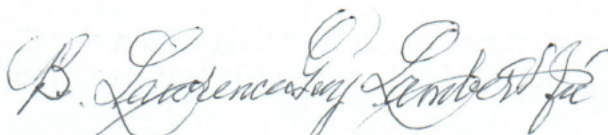

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to explain as much as I know the circumstances of my most sinful assault on your part.

The simple truth is that still today I cannot understand the fact that I raped you. It was the first time that I did that in my life, and I did not do that again. I was on my way to my bedroom upstairs when I saw you and saw nothing wrong with talking to you on the way. But then somehow passion suddenly took over and I did what I should never have done and selfishly and violently hurt your body and hurt your heart for the rest of your life.

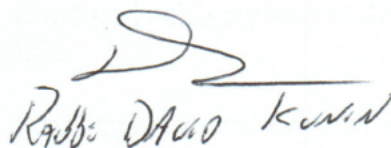

I realize how serious an offense and how you must have suffered because of this awful action on my part. I am deeply sorry for all these sufferings I imposed on you.

I humbly ask for your pardon for this abject behavior now that I realize better what you had to go through because of my foolishness.

With the assurance of my daily prayers for yourself and your family,

Br. Lawrence Guy Lambert

11/21/04