Bitter Sweet

So today the news has come that I will be leaving my current place of work to be able to fully prepare for our trip! There is so much happening and so little time to be able to make it all work! Though totally justified, it is slightly upsetting that I will have to submit a resignation for work. Though nearly impossible, a leave of absence would have been much preferred, though it would not be fair to my coworkers to hold that spot! Working at Access Communications has been a great experience! The people I work with, are all absolute gems, and being able to assist people with their troubles, is nothing short of rewarding! It will be a bitter sweet exit from this company, though I will look forward to the future, and the possibilities of returning once we return from our endeavor!

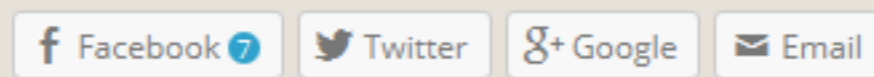

On another note, we are very close to our second to last fundraiser as a group for this trip! An appointment only auto spa! For $50, anyone in Regina can get in touch with me, to book an appointment to have their car cleaned, inside and out! If you want to get your car in, give me a holler, and I'll hook you up! Also stay tuned for the 7th annual Variety Night! Tickets will be on sale very shortly for this spectacular evening. Come join us for dessert and a show! 2 full hours jammed full of awesome music, dancing, and one acts! If you would like more info for that event, stay tuned here, as well as check out the Facebook event which will be posted shortly!

The last two payments for the trip are due very soon! It's scary how close it has gotten! It's been a long haul getting all the funds in place for this trip. Many hours of fundraising work, and planning those fundraisers. There are so many generous people in my life that have been so dedicated to making this happen, and I wouldn't be able to do this, had it not been for them. So again, THANK YOU!

In the beginning...

In the beginning there was a group of folks, who made a very unique connection with one another. They all felt called to help others, and not just in the normal everyday sense.

Among the normal daily lives of service they all lived, they wanted to do something bigger, and so this Philippines Missions trip was born! Led by a fierce and mighty mother hen, this group of youth and young adults from Regina, Saskatchewan set out on an adventure to try and change the world, if only for a few.

If you want to follow along with my/our progress on our journey, keep watching here. We have been working on this for a long time, and as the date for the trip draws near, we will be getting much more prepped for launch!
