

Regina clergy moves announced

By Frank Flegel

REGINA — The Regina archdiocese is losing five priests next year: one for a sabbatical, two are retiring, one is returning to Poland and another has been transferred to Ontario by his Oblate community. The changes were announced by Archbishop Daniel Bohan in the annual clergy moves. Three new priests are taking over some of the parishes that are losing their priest.

Rev. Carlos Jimenez, SVD, leaves Church of Our Lady in Moose Jaw to become pastor of Holy Family, Regina, replacing Rev. Brad Fahlman who is taking a sabbatical leave to "re-centre my mission" for further studies at the University of California, Berkeley.

Rev. Joaquin Ibay from Philippines, who has been at St. Joseph, Moose Jaw for the last five months, moves across the city to become administrator of Church of Our Lady.

Rev. Hope Klutsey, SMA, from Ivory Coast, who has been at St. Joseph, Canora since arriving here in December 2013, moves to Mankota as pastor of St. Albert; St. Jean Baptist, Ferland; St. Joseph, Glentworth; Ste. Therese, Wood Mountain and Nativity of the Blessed Virgin, Val Marie.

Rev. Dennis Remot moves from St. Mary, Moosomin to become administrator of Sacred Heart of Jesus, Montmartre; St. Joseph, Candiac; St. Aloysius, Filmore; Our Lady of the Rosary, Glenavon and St. Ignatius, Kendal.

Rev. Joseph Kuruvillal leaves Mary Queen of All Hearts, Lestock to become pastor of St. Mary, Moosomin; St. Alphonsus, Rocanville; Sacred Heart/St. Andrew, Wapella and Our Lady of Fatima, Fairlight.

Rev. Franklin Emereuwa leaves St. Albert, Mankota to become administrator of St. Joseph, Canora; St. Stephen, Kamsack; St. Philip, St. Phillips; Cote, Keeseekoose and Key Reserves.

Rev. Juanito Vargas Leaves St. Joseph, Canora to become administrator of St. John the Evangelist, Rockglen and Our lady of Perpetual help, Coronach.

Rev. Rene Mangahas's appointment is renewed as administrator of St. Joseph, Whitewood; Holy Name of Mary, Broadview and St. Elizabeth, Stockholm.

Rev. Adelberto Lillo has been at Holy Family Regina since arriving from Philippines and moves to associate priest at St. Joseph, Moose Jaw; St. Mary, Central Butte; and St. John the Evangelist, Marquis.

The above appointments are effective August 1.

Rev. Mieczyslaw Burdzy OMI from Poland becomes pastor of St. Henry's Parish, Melville, effective Sept. 1.

All appointments are for six years.

Rev. Aguinaldo Fermo, who has served at Sacred Heart of Jesus in Montmartre and associated parishes, is retiring, as is Rev. Keith Heiberg, who has been on extended leave in B.C. Rev. Andrew Pawlowicz, who has served at St. John the Evangelist, Rockglen, is returning to his home diocese in Poland and Rev. Antoni DeGutis, OMI, from St. Henry's, Melville has been transferred by his OMI community to St. Catherine's, Ont.
